The Springiersbacher Hof estate has just slightly more than two hectares of steep sloping sites in the commune of Ediger-Eller. The estate was first mentioned in documents dated 1299, while the current manor house of the Springiersbacher Hof was built in 1752. Gabriele and Michael Borchert came to winemaking in 1997, when they established the estate in its current form, their wines are very decent, without exception. We particularly liked the crisp dry Riesling Spätlese from the Calmont site, the steepest vineyard slope in Europe.
